

The Song of the Praying Voice

To the living
Two births occur, One is of the flesh,
One is of the spirit

Oh how many have received the likeness of their fathers
Moon of the Living Waters

All that are and all that have Breathed in the Sun
Let forgiveness be the landing place of your days

Come to me, as early morning rain falls
Come to me, a fire of a thousand suns